

Criminal Sciences

Description of the MSc. program

The Master's program on Criminal Sciences is created as a superior form of training specialists in Law. The projection of the Curriculum includes aspects that are permanently adjusted according to the international standards of education in Law and the promotion of a real partnership between teaching staff and students that allows continuous reassessment and redefining the training mechanisms and education management according to what the young generation really needs.

The Master's Program on Criminal Sciences provides courses that generate real perspectives for a professional career with multiple skills in fields such as magistracy, law practice, criminalistics, sociology or social assistance.

The teaching staff has great experience in the field and are practitioners with well-known expertise, such as: Prof. Tudorel Butoi, Prof. Florian Coman, Prof. Gheorghe Popa, Assoc. Prof. Constantin Duvac, Assoc. Prof. Mihai Olariu, Assoc. Prof. Mihaela Pruna, Judge Mihai Udriou, Lect. Iulian Ionita are directly involved in this program.

The Master's program on Criminal Sciences is mainly created for Law graduate students, but also for graduate students in Humanities, behavioral scientists who, through the nature of their job, require deeper knowledge in related sciences.

